Deltess Corp. Makes a Big Splash! Acquires rights to an underwater pool puzzle

Deltess Corp. announces that they have acquired the rights to sell an underwater pool puzzle! The 12-piece waterproof toy was designed in 2006 by Pam and Doug Towne after they got the idea from their young son, Garrett. The puzzle will be available for purchase this Fall under the name Ostrich Underwater Pool Puzzle.

“We’re very excited about our partnership with Deltess,” says the Townes. “Deltess’ customers know the Ostrich name is synonymous with original outdoor products. It was an easy decision for us to work with them.”

“We LOVE the idea!!,” exclaims Deltess CEO, David D’Alessandro. “Much like the first people who brought basketball and volleyball to the pool, the Towne’s puzzle is an amazing innovation and a really well-made product,” adds Deltess President, Adam Tesser.

Similar to other puzzles, the Ostrich Underwater Pool Puzzle, requires participants to assemble interlocking pieces. When completed, the weighted, rubber puzzle pieces reveal a colorful aquatic scene. Tested among children and adults, the Ostrich Underwater Pool Puzzle has already made a big splash!!!
